Biographical/Historical Note

The Rotary Club of Savannah (Club No. 95) was founded January 5, 1914. Rotary is an international organization of business and professional leaders that is dedicated to providing humanitarian service and building goodwill and peace in the world. Rotary encourages high ethical standards in all vocations. Clubs meet weekly, and there are nearly 27,000 Rotary clubs worldwide. Membership is by invitation and is based on one representative of each business and profession. Their motto is "service above self."

Initially a men's only organization, Rotary is now co-ed. Sister Mary Faith was the first woman inducted into the Rotary Club of Savannah.

Scope and Content Note

This collection contains minutes, rosters, and other records of the Rotary Club of Savannah. The records date from the club's founding in 1914 through 1992. The collection has been divided into seven series: Board of Directors minutes; weekly luncheon minutes; scrapbooks; general office files; presidential files; member portraits; and photographs of Rotary activities. All minutes and correspondence are arranged chronologically. All other materials have been arranged chronologically where possible. The Savannah Rotary Club followed a fiscal year calendar, July to June, and many of its records follow that course.

SERIES 6:: Member portraits

This series contains over 1700 portrait photos of members of the Rotary Club of Savannah. These photos go back to at least 1920, if not earlier, and continue until the 1980s. These images were taken for the club's membership rosters, and they represent more than 1000 different individuals. The images are mainly wallet-sized. All but a few of the images are identified. Included on the back of many of these photographs is the business in which the person was employed. Some photographs have a single date on the back which represents that individual's date of death. Those individuals who served as president of the Rotary Club of Savannah have their dates of service listed on the back of their photograph. Some individuals have more than one photograph. An alphabetical listing of individuals for this series begins after the inventory.
